

The Europa World of Learning

www.worldoflearning.com

Institutional Name Here has access to The Europa World of Learning

Key highlights include:

- Over 35,300 universities, colleges, schools of art and music, libraries, learned societies, research institutes, museums and art galleries, regulatory and representative bodies in 228 countries and territories worldwide.
- Details more than 233,000 staff and officials
- Details more than 28,400 publications
- Information on more than 600 international cultural, scientific and educational organizations
- Completely revised and updated throughout the year
- Covers every important library giving the number of volumes held and outstanding features of the collection
- Professors at major universities are listed by name, together with the subjects in which they specialize
- All entries provide: Name; address; telephone numbers, e-mail and internet addresses; principal personnel; activities and publications, where available
- Exceptional as a worldwide academic mailing list

The screenshot shows the homepage of 'The Europa World of Learning'. At the top, it says 'The Europa World of Learning' and 'THE INTERNATIONAL GUIDE TO THE ACADEMIC WORLD'. Below this is a navigation bar with 'HOME' and 'HELP'. On the left, there is a login section with fields for 'Username:' and 'Password:', a 'LOG IN' button, and a note about Athens authentication. Below the login section is a 'Pricing Enquiry' section with links for 'Register for a free trial', 'Facts and figures', 'Free demo', 'Reviews', 'Credits', 'Feedback', and 'Licence'. On the right, there is a 'Welcome to The Europa World of Learning online' message with a banner image. Below this is a 'Site updated:' section with a detailed list of countries and territories where new entries have been added, including Algeria, Egypt, Libya, Morocco, Nigeria, Sudan, and Tunisia. At the bottom, there is a note about an archive of introductory essays available for download.

New Content added!

XX/XX/XX

Log on to your library's homepage or visit: www.worldoflearning.com